Private Paint Parties

Thank you for your interest in booking a private Painting Event.

How it works

Choose whatever type of art event you would like, for example

1. Wine glass painting
2. Paint along canvas event
3. Semi private, themed lesson where participants are working from their own images/concepts

Choose your medium

With the wine glasses, there are different types of food grade paint that will each give a different look.

For paint along events and themed semi-private lessons, choose from Acrylics, Oils, Watercolors or Charcoal drawing.

Choose your theme

Select a single design or subject

Choose the size of your party

Decide the number of people you would like for me to plan for. This will help in selecting an event location and my preparations. 4 person minimum. If there are less than 4 people, standard private/semi private lesson charges apply.

Choose the event location

The Paint Party can be held at my teaching study in the Oro Valley Community Center, subject to room availability. There is a $10/hour fee for private use of the room on top of the price of the paint class.

Parties can take place at the private residence of one of the participants.

Parties can take place at a restaurant with a privately reserved area, if the restaurant pre-agrees to allow for a paint party.

Fees

Paint Parties are $40 per person. That includes all supplies. If a participant wants to paint on a second glass or canvas, there is an additional $5 charge.

Parties are scheduled for two hours. I give a 30-minute extra grace period. If a paint party goes over 2:30 hours (of actual painting time), there will be an additional charge of $15 per extra 1-15 minutes (charged by the quarter hour). Set-up and clean-up are not included in the time count.

There is also a travel fee depending on where the party will take place. This fee usually ranges from $15 (Oro Valley) - $80 (Sierra Vista).

Book your party

Once the above has been decided, I require a 50% non-refundable deposit. If fewer than the agreed upon participants attend, the full balance for the agreed upon participants is still due on the date of the event. If more than the agreed upon participants want to attend, that is fine, please give me as much notice as possible to prepare for the extra people. The cost for the additional people will be due and added to the balance the day of the event.
